

Hi there Romance Readers

Life is so busy and I have loads to share with you, including some bonus content for the next in the Tangled In Time series, Tangled Hearts.

Sneak peek – Tangled Hearts bonus prequel!

It's a story of love and loss, of second chances and parallel lives—and how family can mean more than the one you were born into. Tangled Hearts is coming soon, and will break your heart and put it all back together again.

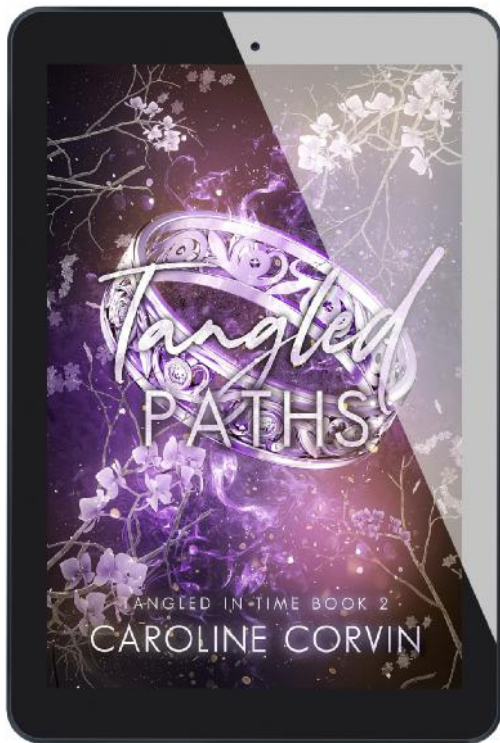

Here's a taste of what's to come. Meet Layla and the 'origin story' of her found family. Who would have known that as a sixteen-year-old she'd meet the group of friends who'd become her surrogate family—and that amongst them would be the love of her life!

Get 'Five' Here

This month it's Tangled Paths turn to get a stunning ebook cover makeover!

It's her time to choose a path. Or is time going to choose for her?

Sarah always put family first. Now, she's ready to jump back on the academic path she sacrificed three years ago. Her history studies taught her you can't recreate the past, so it's time to open her mind and her heart to the future.

But time has the power to choose. It gives, and it takes away. When Sarah faces a life defined by loss, will time's tangled paths deliver her a second chance at happiness?

Find Tangled Paths Here

Caroline's Reading Nook

Books, Film and Music

With lots of holiday reading this last month I had a hard job choosing my favourites to share with you. So I'm going with three across different genres that I've been recommending all over:

1. Memoir: The Storyteller by Dave Grohl. What an amazing human being! He's not just a talented musician, but an all round nice guy. And the stories he has to tell of people and places, some funny, some poignant, make this a "can't put it down" book.
2. Crime Fiction: The Tilt by Chris Hammer. I had to have this one on audiobook as his narrator is the best! Love listening to that Australian accent. Be prepared for complex characters, a twisty plot, and forever wishing you could read it for the first time again.
3. Romance: The Happy Ever After Playlist by Abby Jimenez. A cute couple and a cute dog-what more do you want? I am seriously in love with this author's work, the perfect balance of humour, angst and of course a happy ever after.

After two weeks of no television (because who needs tv on holiday) I really loved getting into The Diplomat with Keri Russell and that steered me in the direction of The Americans. How can I have missed six whole seasons? Lots to catch up on. And because hubby is a romantic at heart, we loved the tv adaptation of Beth Leary's The Flatshare. The Brits do romcom so well.

While in Australia we made a point of listening to some iconic Australian bands: Hunters and Collectors, Australian Crawl, INXS and Cold Chisel. I love the unique flavour of music that develops in different countries, reflecting the people, landscape and culture. And currently I'm compensating for my disappointment at not being able to go to Lewis Capaldi when he plays here in July by having his 2023 set list playing in my car.

Reminder Tangled Threads is available with your KU subscription until 28 June

What if her future lies in a time tangled past?

The last of those who loved her are gone. With nothing left for Kate in New Zealand, it's time to forge a new life. Pinning her hopes of finding family, and maybe even love, elsewhere, she heads to London. What Kate doesn't know is this journey will lead her to two men, two loves—and two lives.

Available in ebook through Amazon or in KU and as a paperback across a range of retailers.

Click here to find out more!

Author Update

Caroline's writing life

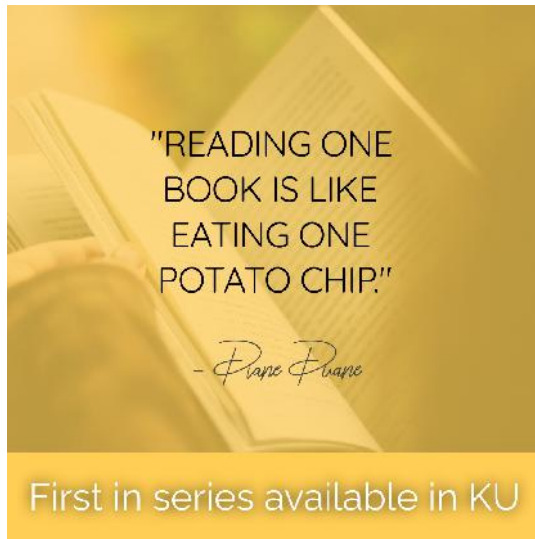

When a book comes back from the editor it such an exciting time! I have to admit that with my latest one, on our zoom call I shed a few tears. Tangled Hearts is a very emotional book for me and I felt Layla's loss as if it was my own. My editor admitted to some tears along the way too! As always, I find the revision process one of the most addictive parts of being a writer, and so each day I can't wait to get into crafting this final form of the story for you. With some ups and downs of real life complicating my writing life, I'm working hard to still get it to you as soon as I can—probably by late June.

Meanwhile, I'm enjoying drafting the new series novella. This is the story of Blair Thorne, artist, and mother of Cassie in the final Tangled In Time book, Tangled Past. She's such a bold character, young and vibrant, and someone who has crammed a lot of living into her twenty-nine years, none of which has prepared her for the events that happen at Glen Ruaidh Castle Hotel in the summer of 1989.

Books To Take A Look At... come shopping with Caroline

First In Series

For those of you with a huge appetite for books, Kindle Unlimited can be a great option. Click here for books that are first in series like Tangled Threads and currently available in KU.

Your Next Romantic Escape

You can also find these romances available on KU. Click here to check out a romantic escape, all these included in your KU subscription or available for purchase.

☐ Over the rainbow bridge ☐

It is something all of us paw-rents have to face.☐ No matter how many years they are with you, a dog's life never seems long enough. Our sweet Shelby had to leave us at almost 15, but we helped her pass peacefully wrapped in love. I just had to have her as dog of the month and take this chance to share her Samoyed smile one more time.

Caroline's Corner

Welcome to my world

Hello from somewhere that does NOT look like my photographs! It's always hard to get back from holiday, but returning to more rain, floods, and winter cold is no fun.

I can certainly recommend Queensland as a beautiful holiday destination. Sun, waving palm trees, beautiful beaches, coral reefs and friendly people make it a great escape. And—insert squeals of excitement—I got to hand feed a wild dolphin at a stunning wee town called Tin Can Bay. A pod of nine come in every morning to visit. See me giving Luna, a six-year-old Australian Humpback Dolphin one of his fish, from the 2kg a day he gets from visitors. Magic!

Holidays that include animal encounters really appeal to this animal crazy woman. Here in New Zealand we have a very small variety of species so travelling feeds my obsession. On previous holidays I've walked on a reef with friendly stingrays swarming around my feet, handled snakes and lizards, held a whole range of birds of prey, including enormous eagles and huge serious owls and snorkelled with stunning tropical fish. Visiting a bat hospital, seeing a platypus in the wild and getting up close with a feisty Tasmanian Devil are other great memories.

What's your ideal holiday? I'd love to hear about some of your best ones. Hope like me you find the memories get you through the boring bits of life!

Caroline

Use my Link-In-Bio To Connect on Social Media

Caroline Corvin

P.O Box 100, Kaukapakapa, Auckland, New Zealand

caroline@carolinecorvin.com

www.carolinecorvin.com

You received this email because you signed up on my website or opted in from a book giveaway. I'd love to keep in touch but if you truly don't want to hear from me anymore, you can unsubscribe below.

If you prefer to just hear when I've got a new release, follow me on Amazon, Goodreads or BookBub.

Unsubscribe

